

*INTRIGUE, INGENUITY, & INSANITY all start the same way: WITH I.

May 22, 2016

Hello to any and all that read this,

I am Isaac Pruden and I am a designer/photographer/ama-teur gardener/bird imaginer. I am a taurus and I believe Wheaties are underrated. Now that you know everything about me that I would put in an online profile, let me tell you what you actually need to know.

Art and design have been shaping who I am since my mom put me in an art program at age 3. So when I say that I have about two or so years of experience, that's experience I was paid for. I have been honing and sharpening my style my whole life. I know that I am a colorful individual and that it comes through, not only in my writing but definitely in my design. I also know that my style is not perfect nor is it universal by itself. But I do know that my work ethic and style can both meld around any project to create just whatever a client or employer needs.

If there is one thing that I learned from my family, it is that I have to make my own way in this world. I want to find my way with you. I may not run fast, as a colorful former employer pointed out to me once, but I will get the job done and I will make sure that you are happy and satisfied with the end result.

If you stuck with me through this whole letter, thank you.

Sincerely and with the best wishes,

Isaac Pruden, Consistently Anxious Designer

870.703.4879

isaacprudendesign.com

isaacprudendesign@gmail.com